FOI Ref 22397

Request - You asked Staffordshire Police (SP) the following:

Under the Freedom of Information Act 2000 I would like to request data regarding burglaries in which heat-based tools (commonly referred to as "Blowtorch burglaries") were used or suspected.

I request the following information:

- 1)
Attempted burglary reports involving use of a blowtorch/cutting torch/oxyacetylene in your area:
 - o Data shown annually from 1st January 2015 to 31st December 2025
 - o Whether the target was commercial or residential.
 - o Whether any areas were flagged internally as repeated targets
 - o Whether there was fire service involvement
 - o The number of incidents resulting in a charge or no suspect identified
- 2)
Whether the force has produced any internal assessments, profiles or briefings relating specifically to burglaries involving heat-based tools during this period
- 3)
Any footage of blowtorch burglary attempts that can be shared, no personal data required.

SP received your request on 16/01/2026 and have processed this under the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA).

SP's response to your enquiry is as follows:

In accordance with Section 17(1) of the Freedom of Information Act, this letter represents a refusal notice for this request.

The following exemption has been applied:

- Section 12(1) where the cost of compliance exceeds the appropriate limit.
Section 12(1) does not oblige a public authority to comply with a request for information if the authority estimates that the cost of complying with the request would exceed the prescribed limit'.

The above information has been withheld for the following reasons:

There is no method by which SP can readily retrieve information from our systems to answer this request. For the time period requested, there have been in excess of 7,800 attempted burglary offences recorded. In order to determine whether a blowtorch or similar tool was involved in the offence, the record for each offence would require a manual review. To extract this data would therefore require a very labour-intensive manual trawl through each record.

From dip sampling, it has been estimated that it would take approximately 5 minutes to review each record to answer this request, this would equate to over 650 hours. To achieve this task would therefore exceed the 18-hour time and cost threshold of the Freedom of Information Act by a considerable margin.

Advice and assistance

Section 16 of the Act places an obligation upon the Authority to provide advice and assistance, to comply with this obligation please see below.

Unfortunately, SP cannot suggest a way in which your request could be simplified or pared down to bring it within the confines of the time and cost threshold.

Please be advised that SP do not hold any information in relation to questions 2 and 3.

Please be advised that all Freedom of Information request responses are published on the SP website although personal details are not included.

3. Review Procedure

Receipt of a request for review will be acknowledged in writing. The review will be conducted by a supervisor who is independent from the original Decision Maker. The Information Access Team will set a target date for a response. The response will be made as soon as is practicable with the intention to complete the review within 20 working days. In more complex cases the review may take up to 40 working days.

The independent Supervisor will conduct a review of the handling of the request for information and of decisions taken, including decisions taken about where the public interest lies in respect of exempt information where applicable. The review enables a re-evaluation of the case, considering the matters raised by the complaint.

On completion of the review the Independent Supervisor will reply to the appellant with the result of the review. If the appellant is still dissatisfied following the review they should contact the Information Commissioner to make an appeal.
